Why remember

Buckland
AGED CARE SERVICES

Over 75 years ago Sir Thomas Buckland had a vision of what Buckland Aged Care Services could give to the community. His original mission has been met over the years, but we need your help to continue to provide care and services at the exceptional standards he set for the organisation. Buckland is a very special place for all those that live here. To continue to provide exceptional care and service, funding beyond that available via general government and resident contributions are always required.

We ask you to think about the significant and enduring impact that you can have on the future of Buckland. A gift in your will, will greatly assist us in continuing to be a centre of excellence in aged care.

Leaving a bequest is a very personal decision, and one that requires careful consideration.

If after giving this careful thought you would like to leave a gift to Buckland, we suggest that you might include the following wording in your will, or if you already have a will adding a codicil that includes this bequest.

"I give to Buckland Aged Care Services
the sum of $..... to be used by the Trust at its' discretion"

OR

To make a specific gift
"I give to Buckland Aged Care Services
the sum of $..... for/or towards"
